This Week:
- Please Return Completed IGAs
- Livestream Option for Community Dialogues
- What's New on the Wiki?
- One Week Away from Launch!

Please Return Completed IGAs

Executive order Agencies received IGAs last week. If you have not done so already, please send the executed version of the document along with Attachment A to IT.Transformation@illinois.gov by Tuesday, June 28th to leave time to address any oustanding questions or concerns before the agency launch on Friday, July 1st!

Livestream Option for Community Dialogues

We look forward to joining you in Springfield for the upcoming Community Dialogues. If you received an invitation but are located outside of Springfield, please access this link during the times below to livestream the event:
- Monday, June 27th: 2:00 PM – 3:00 PM
- Wednesday, June 29th: 9:00 AM – 10:00 AM

For those of you who are in Springfield, please accept the invitation for the session you expect to attend in person so that we can plan accordingly. Agency CIOs will receive packets of DoIT badges at the Community Dialogues.

What's New on the Wiki?

Have you visited the IT Transformation Wiki lately? New content continues to be added. This week, you'll find the CIO Transition Checklist, which provides a list of action items that will help ensure a smooth transition to DoIT on July 1st.

One Week Away from Launch!

We are one week away from the launch of DoIT as a new agency! The IT Transformation team thanks you for participating in the preparation efforts for July 1st. We are excited to become part of one agency by the end of next week.

Featured FAQ of the Week:

Will I lose my parking space?
As a DoIT employee, your access to agency parking at your work location will be governed by your current client agency's policy and past practice.

DoIT is requesting that client agencies adjust their parking policies as needed to minimize the impact on parking for the IT employees who will transition to DoIT after July 1.
